ABOUT US

PipStones Publishing is a mother-daughter company founded in 2018. Providing author services in the areas of editing, formatting, book design, publishing and marketing. With published works also being displayed in Barnes & Noble, and BAM.

A former educator and professional musician, Abigail combines her love for teaching and the arts to help authors bring their stories to life through 1-on-1 coaching, workshops, and courses. She is a published author across genres including self-publishing, humor, and children's literature.

Abigail is a proud member of the Advanced Writers and Speakers Association (AWSA) and Emerald Coast Writers. Based in Lower Alabama and the Florida Emerald Coast, she continues to champion creativity, connection, and innovation in every project she touches.

ENGAGEMENTS

Abby is an active member of both the Emerald Coast Writers Association and the Advanced Writers and Speakers Association (AWSA), a national community of Christian women communicators dedicated to excellence in writing and speaking.

These memberships reflect her commitment to lifelong learning, faith-driven creativity, and connection with other literary professionals. Through these associations, she continues to grow her craft and collaborate with other voices making a difference through writing.

As a speaker, Abby brings warmth, wisdom, and wit to every stage. She speaks on topics related to self-publishing, writing with purpose, the power of storytelling, and navigating the writing journey with faith and focus. Whether she's addressing writers' conferences, women's retreats, or small business events, Abby delivers actionable insight and uplifting encouragement that equips audiences to move forward in their creative calling. She is available for in-person and virtual engagements and enjoys tailoring her message to meet the needs of the group she serves.

Pip Stone Publishing is a game changer for anyone looking to navigate the world of self-publishing! The team is knowledgeable, patient, and truly passionate about helping authors bring their visions to life. The step-by-step guidance provided makes the entire process feel manageable, even for beginners. From refining my manuscript to understanding marketing strategies, they covered everything I needed to know. Thanks to Pip Stone Publishing, I now have a professionally published book that I'm incredibly proud of! If you're serious about self-publishing, this is the company to trust. Five stars all the way!"

I'm a self-publishing author with limited resources for producing and publishing books. Abby helped me publish my last book, The Glory Paradigm, and then worked with me to set up a marketing plan, with the accompanied websites and branding materials. Having published her own book, and having helped her mother publish several books, she has a wealth of expertise and experience that enhanced her ability to support and guide me through the process of producing and marketing my books. Her serving heart was manifest in the many ways she went the extra mile in guiding my work. I highly recommend Abby and Pipstone Publishing as a place to find advice and assistance in the publishing, and marketing process for writers.

Abby with PipStones Publishing is truly incredible & such a delight to work with! I was so pleased with how she worked hard to preserve my author voice all throughout the editing process leading up to completion with full satisfaction! She was patient, kind, informative and thorough in all her work. I highly recommend PipStones Publishing for any portion in your publication process! Abby is incredibly friendly, professional and proficient to deliver your completed project to you with excellence and in a timely manner. Look no further, for this business is truly 5 star quality!
